Mainline

Whether an occasional rider on a joyful jaunt to the cafe, or a seasoned commuter spinning to work with hundreds of miles under their tires, bicyclists of all stripes will feel comfortable in the saddle with Novara's 2013 Mainline collection.

The Mainline collection includes transportation-oriented bikes, ultra-smart gear, and stylish yet stealthily technical clothing: shirts, pants, jackets and skirts to take riders from here to there in comfort—with a splash of style. With details like reflective piping on thoughtfully designed bags, and nicely draping fabrics that breathe as well as they flatter, the collection is a breath of fresh air for those who love riding bikes, but don't want to look like they just got off of one.

TRANSFER

Get from Point A to Point Z—with lots of stops in between—in comfort and reliability. A sturdy steel frame smooths the ride, and an internally geared 7-speed hub powers through urban terrain. Lights, fenders and puncture-resistant reflective tires take on inclement weather and sketchy road debris with ease.

KEY FEATURES

- Stout 4130 chromoly frame and mustache-style handlebar provide a comfortable upright ride
- Shimano 7-speed Nexus internally geared rear hub minimizes maintenance
- Basta LED headlight is powered by a dynamo in the front hub; battery-powered taillight provides rear visibility and is motion- and photo-sensitive
- Shimano V-Brakes® offer reliable stopping; brake lever has an integrated bell
- Includes a rack to mount panniers or a trunk bag (each sold separately)
- Puncture-resistant and reflective 700x35c Schwalbe Marathon tires

$799

Nexus 7-speed internal drivetrain delivers ample gear range and low maintenance

A heads-up, smooth ride that glides easily from work to the weekend

TRANSPORTATION

FLYBY

An all-new frame and updated styling make this 2013 FlyBy a coveted folder on the road—or train, or bus or tucked away in someone's cube. With a Nexus 7 internal drivetrain powering a lightweight yet robust foldable frame and trusty linear brakes, this spry, quick ride draws admiring glances as surely as it zips through the miles.

KEY FEATURES

- New aluminum frame with updated handlepost and hinge mechanism is lightweight and easy to fold and unfold
- Nexus 7 internal drivetrain with REVO twist shifters allows easy shifting and a good gear range to tackle varied terrain
- Linear-pull brakes for quick stops and low maintenance
- Schwalbe Citizen 20x1.5" tires with reflective sidewalls; red rims, seat and grip sides add a splash of color and style
- Biologic (coil) chainguard encases chain to protect clothes from grease and grime

$599

Easy-to-fold design made for compact spaces

ZEALO

Start with the popularity of commuting on a road bike, then give it an infusion of mountain bike sturdiness. Say hello to a quick, reliable ride that meets the demands of urban environs. Sturdy tires and hefty brakes, paired with road-bike nimbleness, means Zealo swiftly maneuvers through just about anything the streets dish up.

KEY FEATURES

- Strong, lightweight butted 6061 aluminum frame is nimble yet sturdy
- Alloy disc fork absorbs road chatter without adding a lot of weight
- Shimano Tiagra compact 20-speed drivetrain shaves weight while providing ample gear range to conquer city streets
- Avid BB7 road disc brakes for sure stops in the wettest conditions
- Street-worthy, sturdy Weinmann rims and 700x32 tires for fast, stable rolling

$999

Avid BB7 disc brakes provide reliable stopping power navigating unpredictable city streets

Road-bike design and a rugged build meet the challenges of the urban jungle

BIG BUZZ

The 2013 Big Buzz sports a light, strong frame and, new this year, hydraulic disc brakes. It's an urban warrior, built for wide open streets and the cramped back alleys of the city. Feed it potholes, construction sites and broken sidewalks, and it will effortlessly power through to its next destination.

KEY FEATURES

- Formed 6061 aluminum frame and straight-blade fork give a nimble, stable ride for taking on urban environs
- SRAM crankset offers solid performance for grinding up steep hills or keeping up with traffic; 27 speeds offer a broad range of gears for both
- Tektro Auriga Pro hydraulic disc brakes offer superior stopping power
- 700x32c Kenda K 184 combo tires with reflective sidewalls and puncture protection
- Stout Weinmann double-wall rims

WOMEN'S OFF-ROAD

At Novara, we've been building bikes for women since the early '90s. Designed to fit women's dimensions, our women-specific bikes feature shorter top tubes for a comfortable reach, narrower handlebars for better control, and shorter, wider seats to support and cushion sit bones.

Our newest addition to our women's fleet is the obstacle-eating Madrona 29, a big-wheeled mountain bike with shaped tubes that belie its mondo tires and trail-conquering components. The Madrona 29 expands on the footsteps of the gravel-path-loving Pika, and Bonita, the perfect solution for a winding singletrack.

Our women's apparel sports technical fabrics that not only breathe and wick, but look good both on and off the bike. Technical features that add comfort and convenience to the ride blend seamlessly with the cut and design of the clothing. Performance-driven and functional, they're comfortable and stylish as well.

WOMEN'S ROAD

Just like our Novara off-road bikes for women, our women's Novara road bikes feature shorter top tubes for a comfortable reach, narrower handlebars for better control, and shorter, wider seats to support and cushion sit bones.

Sport geometry, Shimano components and a dialed-in fit make the Carema Pro nimble and speedy. Tackle a century, ride for charity or ride for fitness—whatever your challenge, this bike is a premium do-it-all road bike that fits the bill.

Close on the heels of the Carema Pro in our road-bike category are the Carema and the Express xx. Quick and sporty, the Carema has a component package that delivers value as well as performance. The Express xx is a bit laid back, with a flat handlebar for those who like a more upright ride.
